

Dr Isaac Olufadewa

GYMHA Board Member, Medical Doctor, Founder and Executive Director At SRHIN Nigeria, One Young World Managing Ambassador for Africa and Middle East region

Dr Isaac is a medical doctor, master's degree (with distinction) holder and social entrepreneur with almost a decade of experience in leadership in various organizations that range from healthcare, leadership and public policy such as US-based International Youth Alliance for Family Planning, Australia-based Global Youth Mental Health Awareness, ONE Campaign (Nigeria) among others.

He is the current One Young World Managing Ambassador for Africa and Middle East where he leads over 1,500 OYW Ambassadors from over 70 countries combined. He is also a health policy leader with expertise in global public health and advocacy and he is very passionate about sexual and reproductive health and rights (SRHR), NCDs and mental health of young people. He is currently the Founder/Executive Director of Slum and Rural Health Initiative (SRHIN), a registered organization that takes quality healthcare through the use of advocacy, technology and research to underserved people in urban slums and rural areas in Nigeria and Ethiopia with a vision to reach millions of people in Africa. Dr Isaac is a recipient of several awards, fellowships, scholarships or grants from several reputable organizations which include the African Union, Tony Elumelu Foundation, Reckitt Benckiser, and Harvard Global Health Institute.